

Webservant Report NASCONA May 5, 2013

I will not be at this ASC or the June ASC due to the Rotator Cuff surgery I just had. This should be the last surgery that I have done (I hope).

The web site is doing great. In my last 2 reports I stated that my crystal ball was broken so I couldn't read minds any more. Now I understand that some of you are having problems finding things on the website. I would like to call to your attention the search engine on each of our web pages. I am going to reformat the site so that things will be easier to find. I will also add an index page and make it real simple.

I didn't do a news letter this month as it is hard for me to type one handed and there were no articles submitted this month or last month.

In Selfless Service,

Bob T.
