

Web Servant Report – July 2015

Our website is doing great as usual. We are getting a fair amount of traffic on the website. I have done very little to the website this month as I am still in Canyon Lake taking care of my friend with stage 4 liver cancer. She is in very serious condition as they removed part of the cancer. I take care for her during the day. My friend is not looking for sympathy nor am I making any excuse's for slacking off on my responsibilities this month.

I have finally got most of the bugs out of my lap top. I just don't have all my email addresses. I have added a forwarder to my email to forward email to my lap top. I did not update the website last month. Those of you who have updates send them to me and I will make the updates and post all reports.

ILS,
Bob T.
