

Literature Review Report

Sunday, May 5, 2019

Good times from Literature Review! Thank you for the opportunity to share this important work.

There are currently two ongoing projects right now; the “Spiritual Principle A Day Meditation Book”, and the “Mental Health IP”.

The “Spiritual Principle A Day Meditation Book”, has 12 principles available. Nine new spiritual principles were made available in March, and these will continue to June. You can access the Input Forms by going to na.org/spad. There is also a survey and some entries for review and input will be released in late spring.

The “Mental Health IP” is in the Review and Input phase. This phase will last until May 15, so we are getting close to that deadline. There have been some negative comments on this, but the majority have stated positive comments. This is set for an approval draft of the proposed IP in the 2020 CAR. The draft and the survey can be accessed at na.org/mhmi.

Please let me know if there is interest in scheduling a workshop on either of these projects for Literature Review.

There is also a Local Service Toolbox project with the focus on Serving NA in Rural and Isolated Communities. Final changes are being made and this should be available for review and input soon at na.org/rural service.

Once again, thank you for allowing me this opportunity to serve.
